The Journal

Insurance Institute of India publishes a biannual journal every year. The theme for the next (July – December 2011) issue of the journal is “Insurance and Social Security”. The Journal welcomes contributions in the form of research papers, articles, case studies and book reviews from academicians and practitioners on the above theme.

The papers may deal with any of the aspects of Insurance and Social Security like the relative roles of Government, occupational schemes, market and the individual savings, towards addressing the individual and social impact of contingencies like death, disease, old age and catastrophes. We would especially be interested in papers that explore the emerging challenges in meeting the needs of social security in an uncertain and sharply changing world. The perspective may be national or international.

The paper should reach us latest by 31st October, 2011. The paper may be sent at journal@iii.org.in.

For Detailed Guidelines to the contributors of the Journal please follow link - <http://www.insuranceinstituteofindia.com/insuranceinst/home/uploads/Guidelines.pdf>
